GUNMEN STILL HAVE CHANCE OF SHORT DELAY

New York, April 9.—"Gyp the Blood" and the three other gunmen sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing Monday, still have a slight chance of living a few days longer.

Despite Gov. Glynn's refusal to stay the execution, Joseph H. Shay, attorney for ex-police Lieut. Becker, convicted of instigating the Herman Rosenthal murder, prepared today to file an order before the Supreme Court asking Dis't Att'y Whitman to show cause why a commission should not be appointed to take the depositions of the four condemned murderers. If any justice of the Supreme Court receives such an order the execution will in all probability be delayed until after Monday.

When the gunmen are put to death five doctors will be present to watch the execution from the standpoint of science and to examine the brains of the men afterward.

NOT MEANING TO KNOCK

"So sorry I couldn't see you when you called, but I was just having my hair washed."

"And the laundries are so provokingly slow about returning things!"—Fun.
